CLASS OFFICERS ARE SELECTED IN NOVEL ELECTION

Australian Ballot System Used in Spring Election of Class Leaders

POLY SCI DEPARTMENT IN CHARGE OF VOTING

Results are Close in Many Cases; Olson Named Columbian Senior President

In what has been characterized as "the best conducted election in the history of the University," class officers were selected by students of Columbian, Engineering and Teachers' Colleges last Saturday in the Gymnasium.

Despite the comparatively small number of voters, the 452 ballots cast being representative of less than one-tenth of the enrollment of the three colleges, a fair election was forthcoming with none of the political contests at George Washington in the past few years. An entirely new system of balloting was inaugurated under the guidance of Professor Warren Reed West, assisted by members of his Political Science classes, and Professor Henry Gratton Doyle, Adviser to Men's Organizations. The "Australian" form of ballot was used, which is the same method employed in national and state elections.

The elections, which took place all day Saturday, were held in the Gymnasium, and no electioneering was allowed inside the building. A voter identified himself on entering the door, and after his name was verified by reference to eligibility lists, he was given a ballot for his particular class.

No Ballots Thrown Out

He then went to a table by himself, marked his ballot, folded it, and dropped it into a large ballot box presided over by Dr. West. Thus, no ballots were cast out because of illegibility or fraud.

The plan of having the elections take place in the spring apparently will be of much advantage to class officers desiring to organize their classes early in the fall, on returning to school. In this way it will be possible to engage in immediate concentration of Sophomore activities for the discipline of incoming Freshmen.

Because candidates having a plurality of votes in their favor were awarded the office, many close victories resulted. In some cases of ties were won by the narrow margin of one vote. The official election report would lead one to believe that two students by the name of "Scattering" and "Blank" had been elected to hold several offices apiece. But on close examination it is seen that "Scattering" won in instances where no plurality was had, and that "Blank" referred to the fact that no one had been nominated for the office.

Junior Presidency Close

Alben E. Olson was elected president of the Senior Class of Columbian College for 1927-28, by a large majority, and Betty Brandenburg was chosen vice-president. Margaret Maize was elected secretary, and Suzanne Jamison, treasurer. Marjorie Rhodes was elected as sergeant-at-arms, being the only candidate. Eighty ballots were cast.

By a plurality of two votes, Daniel Eberly was elected president of next year's Columbian College Junior Class, over William Hardy, Jr. Helen Taylor was made vice-president through a three vote majority over Julia Denning. Bernadine Horn was chosen for secretary, and James Fleck for treasurer by a large majority. Julia Eckel, the only candidate, was made sergeant-at-arms. Neither the Senior or Junior Class had more than two candidates nominated for any office.

The Sophomore Class, having more votes than any other class, polling 218 ballots, elected Darrell Crain president with 88 votes. A. Frank Kreglow, the only man not supported by any fraternity in the election, was a close second in this race, getting 74 tallies. By a plurality of five votes over Arthur A. Kimball, Kath-

The announcement was made by the University in furtherance of its plan for the development of the medical center which is to bring the three institutions together.

John B. Lerner, president of the George Washington University board of trustees, and Dr. William Mather Lewis have been appointed to membership on the Garfield Hospital board of trustees.

Land has been purchased in the vicinity of Garfield Hospital for the George Washington University Medical School, now situated on H street.

DOYLE IS NAMED AS DEAN OF MEN

New Office Created by Trustees Meets Long-Felt Student Need

SUGGESTED BY STUDENTS

"Duties Which Have Been Entrusted To Me Extremely Attractive," Says New Dean

By action of the Board of Trustees, Professor Henry Gratton Doyle, of the Romance Languages Department, has been designated as Dean of Men at George Washington University.

The creation of this new office meets a long-felt need at the University, and is in line with suggestions made by the President's Student Advisory Committee.

During the past year Professor Doyle has served as Adviser to Men's Organizations. His new title enlarges his sphere of influence and cements his contact with men of the University.

Likes New Duties

Commenting on his new work Dean Doyle said: "Owing to expansion, George Washington University, along with other universities, has acquired a large student body and the contact between faculty and students which was one of the most valuable features of colleges in the past, was in a great measure lost."

"In many institutions this contact has been reestablished by the appointment of personnel officers whose function is to develop the personal contact which so often, because of numbers, is lacking. "From this point of view the new duties which have been entrusted to me are extremely attractive because they present an opportunity for developing a phase of college teaching which has always appealed to me, as to most other college teachers—the contact with students, primarily as human beings."

"I hope that my office may be of service to the men of the University in all of their extra class-room problems."

Activities Numerous

Professor Doyle is completing his eleventh year at George Washington. For the past seven years he has been Faculty Supervisor of Publications.

In addition to his work at George Washington, the new Dean's interests and activities are numerous. This year he has held the lectureship in French Philology at Johns Hopkins University. He is Assistant Managing Editor of the Modern Language Journal; Associate Editor of Hispania, and Modern Language Editor of the Journal of Education. He is a member of the American Council on Education.

Lindbergh And Kern Get Election Votes

Aviator and Professor Receive Vote for President and Treasurer in Class Elections

At the elections held in our palatial gymnasium last week, one hero-worshipping senior of Columbian College cast his priceless ballot for the presidency of his class in favor of none other than "Lindy" himself.

Maybe that's not patriotism and appreciation of good deeds well done! Here's a senior who realizes the worth of true valor and would give to this fearless flyer the highest honor that he has in his power to bestow. As it is, his lone ballot was cast to no avail and was snowed under beneath the onslaught of the two leading candidates' votes. Perhaps it's just as well, because the school would very likely have had a harder time proving Lindbergh's attendance at George Washington than Paris had proving his French descent.

Another student caused a sensation by voting for Professor Robert Russ Kern, for class treasurer. This is certainly indicative of the trust which at least one of Professor Kern's students places in him, and again shows the good judgment used by the senior who knew how to vote and who to vote for.

EDITORIAL BOARD IS SELECTED FOR THE '27 HATCHET

Eight Students Named by Publications Committee to Serve Next Year

BOARD ELECTS OFFICERS; SMITH ON ADVISORY BODY

Campbell Starr is Chosen Chairman of Board; Milton Dennis Again Made Business Manager

Eight students have been named by the Faculty Committee on Publications to serve on the Editorial Board of The Hatchet for the year 1927-28. Five of the members of the new board will serve for the first time, while three have been members of the board for the past year.

At the same meeting of the Faculty Committee, Prof. Audley L. Smith, of the English Department, was appointed to the Faculty Advisory Board. This board now consists of Prof. Henry Gratton Doyle, chairman; Mr. Daniel C. Chace and Prof. Smith.

The new Board of Editors held its first meeting Friday, May 27, to elect its officers for the first semester of the coming year. R. Campbell Starr, who has served on the Board of Editors for the past year, was chosen as chairman of the Board. Milton L. Dennis, who has served on both the business and editorial staffs, and as business manager for the past year, was again named for that position. Betty Wiltbank was chosen secretary to the board.

Members of New Board

Those who were chosen to constitute the new board are Marcelle Le Menager, Milton L. Dennis, R. Campbell Starr, Elizabeth Wiltbank, Dorothy Dougherty, Sherman Johnson, Joe D. Walstrom and Julia Denning. Each member of the new board has been active on the publication for two or more years.

The Board of Editors method of controlling The Hatchet was instituted here in 1925 and was operated successfully for the past two years. Under the rules adopted by the Faculty Committee when the board plan was put into effect, the members of the Editorial Board are chosen from a list submitted to the chairman of the Faculty Committee. The board directs the policy of The Hatchet, makes all regular appointments, and governs relations between the editorial and business departments of the paper.

Board Members are Active

The new members of the board have been active in student activities other than The Hatchet. Betty Wiltbank has been on the staff of The Hatchet for three years, serving as assignment editor for the past year. She has been active in dramatics for three years, and is a member of the new board of the Dramatic Association which has just been created. She is a member of the Women's Advisory Council, and represented George Washington at the National Student Federation convention at Ann Arbor last December. Miss Wiltbank is a member of Gamma Eta Zeta, women's professional journalistic fraternity, and of the Hour Glass Honor Society.

Dorothy Dougherty has served on the Hatchet staff for two years, acting in the capacity of news editor for the past season. She is on the board of control of the Graduate Endowment Fund, has been active in Le Cercle Gallia and the Troubadours, and was a member of the Roll Call Committee in 1925. She is a member of Gamma Beta Pi fraternity, Gamma Eta Zeta, women's professional journalistic fraternity, and of the Hour Glass Honor Society.

Sherman Johnson has been a member of the Hatchet staff for three years, serving as associate editor 1924-25, and as news editor during the past year. He is associate editor of the Ghost, and a member of the cross-country team. He is a delegate to the Interfraternity Council, a member of the Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity, of Phi Delta Epsilon, National Collegiate Honorary Journalism fraternity, and of the Press Club.

Joe D. Walstrom has served on the Hatchet staff for two years, acting as dramatic and literary editor. He is editor-in-chief of the Ghost for the coming year. He is a member of the Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity, of Pi Delta Epsilon, National Honorary Journalism fraternity, and the George Washington University Press Club.

Julia Denning has been on The Hatchet Staff for two years, serving as girls' sports editor for the past year. She was manager of girls' swimming for the past season, has been a member of the varsity basketball squad for the past two years, and is manager-elect for the coming season. She is a member of the Chi Omega fraternity, and of Gamma Eta Zeta, women's professional journalistic fraternity.

Best Drawing Submitted to Publishers Before September First to Receive $5

The first number of next year's Ghost will make its appearance about October 1. It was decided at a recent meeting of the George Washington Press Club. At this meeting definite plans were formulated for the magazine, which will be published about the first of each month and will be substantially increased in the number of pages.

The board of managers which will control next year's Ghost will be composed of the following: Joe Davis Walstrom, editor-in-chief; R. Campbell Starr, business manager; Howard M. Baggett, alumni member; Rowland Lyon, art editor; Rolston Lyon, circulation manager; Elbert L. Huber and Sherman E. Johnson, associate editors.

New Officers Elected

At the same time elections were held by the Press Club, and R. Campbell Starr was elected president for next year, with Rowland Lyon, vice-president; Rolston Lyon, secretary, and Elbert Huber treasurer.

In order to get cartoons and drawings for the first issue, the Press Club is conducting a contest, the details of which are announced herewith:

(1) Five dollars will be paid for the best drawing submitted, three dollars for the second best, and one dollar each for all other drawings printed.

(2) All drawings shall be on white paper with black India ink. The size of the drawing should be 7x10 inches, or smaller.

(3) All contributions should be sent to "The Ghost, George Washington University," and must be submitted by September in order to receive consideration.

If this plan is satisfactory it will probably be continued throughout the year. Those in charge wish to state that positions on the staff of the Ghost are open to students, and anyone interested in the art, literary, or business staff should submit contributions to the above address or get in touch with members of the board.

The Ghost will sell at twenty-five cents per copy and the subscription price for the entire eight copies sent by mail will be $1.75. Preparations are already under way for next year's magazine, and every effort is being made to place the Ghost in the top rank of college comics.

The following are some of the answers found on a final examination in English 6, a section of the class in English Survey.

Flaubert was begun by Rosetti. He belonged to the fleshly school of art. Rugby Chapel was where football was begun. "To honor while you strike him down."

The Comic Spirit was enjoyed by Meredith. The Lady of the Land. "In my house there are many mansions."

DRAMA COUNCIL IS REORGANIZED

Merger of Three Dramatic Groups Into One Group Is Effected

COUNCIL HOLDS MEETING

Plans For Next Year Are Discussed; Coach to Be Appointed Next Fall

Plans for next year, which will put George Washington University on a par with the best drama-producing collegiate organizations in the country, were outlined at the first meeting of the new Dramatic Council, working on the basis provided by the merging of three of the four dramatic clubs—Mimes, Players and Dionysians—into a single producing unit. The meeting was held Wednesday, June 1.

Questions of organization, selecting a coach and getting plays were considered by the Council. The key positions of the company are filled by the staff, and each staff member will be assisted by a committee consisting of one senior, two juniors, three sophomores and four freshmen. Each member of the committee will thus be trained for the top job. By this policy of elimination and competition the staff is assured enthusiastic cooperation and efficient successors in carrying on the work of the organization. The spirit of competition, however, will not extend beyond each division. The council will meet again the first week in October, subject to call. Arrangements for regular meetings, which will probably be dinner meetings, will be taken up then.

May Present Foreign Plays

The dramatic coach will be appointed next fall. The coach must be thoroughly versed in all the business of the theatre, for although he will be subject to the direction of the whole board during the process of preparing the production, once the company has moved into the theatre for the actual presentation he will be in absolute command.

Hindoo, Russian, German and other European plays, as well as American plays, will be considered for production. Committees were appointed to read plays of different types and report upon them. The final choice will be made next fall.

At a recent meeting of the Dramatic Council a general reorganization was voted on, with the result that three of the four clubs have merged. These are the Players, Mimes and Dionysians. The fourth organization, the Troubadours, producing musical comedies, has been separated from all other dramatic effort and is independent of university support from the student activity fund. The new organization, to be known as the Dramatic Association of George Washington University, will produce one varsity production a year. Rehearsals will begin early in the fall, and the show will be run a week in a professional Washington theatre.

The merging of the three clubs does not disband the original societies. They can continue their careers independently, giving monthly plays, but they will not receive support from the activity fund.

Dramatics have merged because of the popular interest that has been manifested in them in the last three years. Under the new plan it is thought that more students will be allowed to participate and that this will result in the presentation of one perfect production.

A board of directors was elected to have complete charge of the new activity under the supervision of a faculty advisor. Under this system each director is completely responsible for the work of his department. The board consists of Edward Moulton, general manager; Max Tendler, programs; George Spangler, publicity; Kenneth Yeans, publicity; William Ellenburger, electrician; Betty Wiltbank, costumes; Marlon Campbell, properties; Kirmit Girdner, stage manager; Fern Henninger, stage manager.

THE NEW HATCHET BOARD

This issue of the Hatchet is edited by the recently elected Editorial Board. For the past two years it has been the custom for the incoming board to put out the final issue of the paper. During the past year the Hatchet has taken several strides forward. The size of the paper has been enlarged from four to six pages. The circulation has been increased to 6,500. The new board has a fine reputation to uphold. Next year's Hatchet will see whether or not this reputation is to remain with it.

THE DEAN OF MEN

The appointment of Professor Doyle as Dean of Men is a welcome announcement to men of the University, as it defines a sphere of influence which has been long in a nebulous state. No longer must men students wander from pillar to post when in search of counsel. They now have an officer and a friend to whom they may turn with assurance of receiving consideration and help. The Board of Trustees has taken a wise step, not only in the creation of this new office, but also in the selection of its incumbent.

Professor Doyle is liked and respected by the student body; and furthermore, there is a Celtic twinkle in his eye which announces that in spite of years as a college professor, the new Dean of Men has remained entirely human.

A NEW LIBRARY

Examinations are over, but there still lingers in the mind of the student a memory of those hectic hours before the exams, with the inevitable crowded conditions in the Arts and Sciences library. At the time when the library should be of most value to the student for studying, it becomes merely a place to get reference books. Even if one is lucky enough to get a seat, studying is out of the question.

When confronted by such a situation, the average student wonders longingly when the Third Unit, with its glowing prospects of a spacious library, will become a reality. A larger library has ceased to be a luxury to be hoped for, it is now an absolute necessity.

It is encouraging to note that the Columbian Women have pledged $10,000. This is a worthy goal for all alumni organizations already been raised, and that the California Alumni have also pledged $10,000. This is a worthy goal for all alumni organizations.

CLASS ELECTIONS

Every student will undoubtedly recall the election fizzle which featured the school year of 1926-27. The elections were held, to be sure, but each faction was so intent on seeing its candidates in office that various unsavory practices were resorted to, and the school year was half over before the legitimate votes could be identified.

Next year it will be different, for the elections for next year's class officers have just been held. No one was killed at the polls; graft extended no further than an occasional free cigar; each student apparently voted under his own name; campaign expenditures were not excessive. Comparatively speaking, it was a quiet, respectable election.

Therefore, we congratulate Dr. West, who engineered the affair, and all others who were instrumental in conducting the recent elections. When the Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors come back to school next fall they will have class officers, which are indispensable if class organization is to mean anything.

SCHOOL is out and summer is here. It is interesting to note how George Washington people are going to spend the summer. Some are going away, many are going to work, some are going to summer school, and most every one who remains here will enjoy jaunts up the river and week-ends at the beaches around Washington.

The Sigma Nu's are celebrating the passing of exams with a dance at the chapter house tonight.

Sigma Kappa sorority will make Senior week quite a glorious affair for its seniors. Starting with a joint meeting of the alumni and actives on Monday night at the home of Evelyn Fletcher and a picnic at Mary Ann Newcombe's shack on the Potomac on Tuesday afternoon, the jollifications will culminate with a dance on Thursday night at Beaver Dam Country Club.

The S. A. E.'s gave the last dance of the season at the fraternity house last night. From all reports it was quite "hot."

The new initiates of Kappa Delta sorority are going to give the actives a picnic next Thursday at the country home of Ann Patrick Kent.

The annual Kappa Delta home coming will take place next Sunday at the home of Helen and Estelle Humphreys in Cabin John.

One would think that the goats of Delta Zeta are all going on the stage judging from the "goat" show with which they entertained their superiors on the night of May 18th.

At the meeting an invitation was extended the sorority to visit the Filtration Plant. During the summer the sorority plans to visit many factories both here and in Baltimore. It is thought that the chemistry involved will be interesting and instructive.

Delta Zeta sorority held their initiation banquet at Club St. Marks on Saturday, May 21st. Helen Robb was toast mistress, and the numerous clever responses sounded good enough for Will Rogers himself.

Among those who attended June week at Annapolis this week were Betty Waller, Mildred Brasheers and Louise Dubose.

Among those who will attend the dance at Maryland University tonight are Margaret Schwartz, Elsie Talbert, Billie Wright and Hylda Wrenn.

LINGUISTIC SCIENCE COURSES NEXT YEAR

New Courses to Present Language From Scientific Point, Not Literary View

Courses in linguistic science will be given for the first time at G. W. next year. This work will be primarily for graduate students, although seniors with sufficient knowledge of the classical languages will be permitted to enter the classes.

The purpose of these courses will be to present languages as a development rather than an instrument, and taking a scientific point of view rather than a literary.

The first semester's work will be a general introduction to linguistics. Professor Sehrt, who has this course, will deal with elementary phonetics, the principles of change in language and the classification of languages. The purpose of this course is to furnish a general foundation for the scientific study of language.

The second semester's work, which will be given by Professors Michaelson, Doyle and Sehrt, will be a more general course. It will deal with the applications of the laws of change to the more important Indo-European languages, the development of suffixes and inflections and syntax.

Both semesters are two-hour courses. They are in the nature of an experiment, and if they should prove successful, will be extended to include more specific courses such as Sanscrit, Latin, Greek and the divisions of the Germanic. Further announcement will be made in the George Washington catalogue.

Modern smoking pleasure that never fails

THE smokers of this age are the most independent ever known. Accepting no hearsay, they have smoked out the facts. They have learned that the choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos grown are rolled into Camels, that here is the incomparable blending for goodness, that Camels simply never tire the taste.

Camel is the cigarette that never fails to please the modern age. Regardless of how often you want the comfort of a smoke, of how steadily you light one after another, Camel will never fail you, never give you any but the finest thrill of smoking pleasure. This is why Camel's popularity, by far the largest in the modern world, keeps overwhelmingly in the lead. As modern taste becomes more insistent upon choice tobaccos, increasing millions discover Camel's incomparable mildness, smoothness and mellowness.

If you want the cigarette that's good to live with from morn to mid-night, the one that is the choice of the modern age, "Have a Camel!"

G. W. TRACKMEN PROVE ABILITY IN 1927 SEASON

Colonials Lose One Meet; Second In Another; Victorious In Two

BAKER HIGH SCORER WITH TOTAL OF 32

Buff and Blue Shows Strength Afield And In Distance Runs; Weak in Sprints

Undismayed by a decisive defeat in the first meet of the year, the Colonial track team overcame their bad start, won two meets, and placed second in another, in which five colleges were entered, to conclude a successful 1927 season.

William and Mary, the first opponent, was met at Williamsburg in a dual meet which served as a season opener. A squad of fifteen men only represented George Washington, but despite their lack of numbers, they ran up 27 points to the Indians' 90, by scoring a great many seconds and thirds, which in a measure offset the victories of the Williamsburgers. Pomeroy scored the only first for the Buff and Blue when he stepped the two-mile run in 10:37.

Several weeks later, after much practice and a squad greatly increased in size, the Colonials found little difficulty in drubbing Catholic U. 68-2-3 to 48-1-3 in a dual affair at the Brookland stadium. The Cardinals were especially strong in track events, and had no trouble in taking the low hurdles, the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes, and the quarter-mile run. The Hatchettes retaliated in the field events, however, and used steam roller tactics to take every field event except the broad and high jumps.

In this meet, first places were won by Fairman, Morrow, Walker, Popham, and Baker. The last two named won two first places each. A comfortable lot of seconds and thirds sewed the meet up for the Colonials.

Gallaudet Defeated

The following Saturday the Gallaudet track stars were met at Kendall Green in a rainstorm which lasted all afternoon. From the start of the meet, it was obvious that George Washington would win the Hatchkiss Cup, significant of winning the G. W. Gallaudet dual meet twice. In fact, the Kendall Greeners were able to score but two first places throughout the afternoon, and owed their good showing to the second and third places, which enabled them to run up 33 points against the 98 acquired by the Colonials.

As in preceding meets, however, the one weak spot of the Buff and Blue was disclosed to be in track events, for it was in the 220-yard dash and 220-yard low hurdles that the Gallaudet men finished ahead of the Prohemens. First places were won by DeVoe, Walker, Popham, Morrow, Elliott, Hartzog, Stevens, Abbott, and Willett. Each of the last two men won two firsts apiece.

In the season's finale, a five-cornered meet held at Brookland, in which Hopkins, Catholic U., Gallaudet, and American U. were encountered, the Colonials placed second by virtue of four firsts, and an imposing group of seconds, thirds, and fourths. Here again it was proved that the track department of the G. W. line-

NET TEAM WINS IN SEASON FINAL

Washington and Jefferson Netmen Defeated by Colonial Racket Wielders

G. W. GETS CLEAN SWEEP

West Virginia Wesleyan Match Halted by Rain; Locals in the Lead

In the final contest of the season, the George Washington tennis team defeated Washington and Jefferson rather handily, six matches to nothing on the Wardman Park Courts, May 16. The Colonial netmen had little difficulty in making a clean sweep of the half dozen matches, winning four of them in straight sets. Five singles matches were played instead of the four which had been customary in previous tilts.

Another contest was started on May 18, against West Virginia Wesleyan, but the match was hardly under way when it had to be called off on account of rain. From results of the games played before the elements broke loose, it looked as though another G. W. victory was on tap, for Aronowsky won his match, and Detwiler had taken one set when the postponement occurred.

Aronowsky furnished the most thrills from a G. W. standpoint in the W. and J. fray by coming from behind to defeat Ferguson 6-3 in the third set, after the latter had broken through in the first set to score a hard fought 6-4 victory. Aronowsky won the second set by the same score.

G. W. Takes Doubles Matches

G. W.'s margin of victory in the doubles match was very slim, both sets being won by Emms and Abrams by scant two-game leads. Moore and Baker put up a hard driving game and displayed some scintillating net work, but lost their service once in each set which was enough for the local boys, who won 7-5, 6-4.

Three sets were played in but one other match, that between Abrams and Lane. The local netmen had no trouble with the first set, and garnered a 6-1 victory. Evidently the Virginian had been saving himself at first, for he kept Kenny on the move in the second set, and won 6-4. Abrams broke the tie by getting over some well placed returns to take the set and match 6-3.

The other three singles matches were easy for the Colonials, the Jeffersonians being able to win three games in only one of the six sets played.

Results in detail: George Washington vs. Washington and Jefferson, Wardman Park Courts, May 16.

Singles—Emms (G. W.) defeated Moore (W. & J.), 6-1, 6-1; Abrams (G. W.) defeated Lane (W. & J.), 6-1, 4-6, 6-3; Sickler (G. W.) defeated Baker (W. & J.), 6-2, 6-3; Detwiler (G. W.) defeated Meloy (W. & J.), 6-2, 6-1; Aronowsky (G. W.) defeated Ferguson (W. & J.), 4-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Doubles—Emms and Abrams (G. W.) defeated Moore and Baker (W. & J.), 7-5, 6-4.

MINNESOTA IS REGISTERING

MINNEAPOLIS—University of Minnesota is requiring registration of this year's students for the fall quarter at this time. W. H. Bussey, assistant dean of the junior college, is conducting the registration.

Registration for freshmen and sophomores began last Friday and continues until today. Senior college students may register from Tuesday until June 8.

The bulletin for the Science, Literary, and Arts colleges is now ready for distribution at the registrar's office.

Y. W. C. A. KAMP

According to tentative plans, coeds who are going to Kamp Kahlert with the George Washington Y. W. C. A. will meet in front of the Cafeteria Friday afternoon at 2 p. m. A bus has been reserved so that it is necessary that further registrations for this three-day period at the Kamp on West River be arranged immediately with Louise Omwake. She can be reached at Adams 7969.

up was weak, for the Colonials were able to take but one track event, the 440-yard dash, which Baker won after a brilliant run. Hartzog in the discus, Popham in the shot put, and Walker in the javelin accounted for the other three firsts of the Hatchettes.

It can be clearly seen that George Washington victories this year were the result of excellence in distance runs and in field events. No better demonstration of this can be shown than the table of points scored by each man during the year.

Baker is High Man

Baker, a star distance man, leads the season's scoring with 32 points, while Walker, who excels with the javelin, discus, and shot, comes second with a total of 26. Close behind is Abbott, whose specialty has been the high jump, and the hurdles. His total for the year is 25½. Fourth place goes to Popham, the shot putter, with 23 points. Elliott, 18; Willett, 14; Morrow, 12½; Hartzog, 13-5-6; Winsland, 11; Hall, 12½; Pomeroy, 10; Fairman, 9; DeVoe, 8; Stevens, 8; Suter, 7; Domigan, 3; Smith, 3, and Smoot, 1½, follow.

DeVoe is the first sprint man on the list, and while he has led the way for the other G. W. short distance men, the fact that he has scored but 8 points shows that his best efforts were not always good enough to win points for the Colonials.

Student Paper Banned; Advocated Evolution

Requested Reinstatement of Profs.
Fired For Teaching
Darwin

SHAWNEE, Okla.—The Bison, student publication of Oklahoma Baptist University, has been suppressed because it printed resolutions asking reinstatement of three professors dismissed for teaching evolution.

The discharged professors were: Sinclair D. Conley, head of the psychology and education department; A. B. Newell, head of the English department; and J. Vernon Harvey, of the Botany department.

The Bison's editorial appealed to the Christian hearted, forward-looking and intelligent Baptists of the state to save Oklahoma Baptist University from the mistaken and hasty action of the board of trustees, initiated by a handful of students and acquiesced in and actually encouraged by a few members of the faculty who are unfavorable to the administration.

A mass meeting of students had protested against the dismissal.

Journalism-Fraternities To Publish Handbook

Pi Delta Epsilon and Gamma Eta
Zeta to Edit Next Issue

Pi Delta Epsilon, National Honorary Journalism Fraternity, and Gamma Eta Zeta, Women's Professional Journalistic Fraternity, have been designated to take charge of the publication of the Handbook.

The book is the official handbook of the University, and is distributed free of charge to all students. It contains a summary of facts about the University, a section which explains the work of the various organizations, and a directory of the officers of the major activities at George Washington.

A joint committee, consisting of members of the two fraternities, has been selected to take over the actual work of getting out the Handbook. It will probably be distributed during the opening week of school in the fall.

RESPONSE ENCOURAGING

Subscription To Fund May Be Made
Now Or On Senior Class
Night

Topping the amounts raised in former years, the subscriptions from the College of Arts and Sciences to the Senior Endowment Fund have nearly reached the sum of five thousand dollars. Henry James, chairman of the committee, has announced. Returns from the Engineering School, Teachers College, the Law School and the Medical School are not yet in.

According to the committee, the response from the seniors has so far been splendid, and the drive is being pushed with vigor. The presidents of the senior classes are working with the committee to raise money, and subscription blanks may be obtained from them.

In speaking of the project the chairman of the committee said, "The annual drive among the members of the Senior Class for the Endowment Fund is one of the worthiest efforts made by students of the University, and merits support from every undergraduate. The object is one which all friends of the University have sought and are seeking with enthusiasm, and its accomplishment will mean a step forward in the development of the University. A contribution to the campaign now in active progress is the finest way a member of the University can show his interest, appreciation, and cooperation in the advance of the school."

Blanks may be obtained Class Night as well as from the presidents of the Senior Classes.

The report of the Honor Committee has just been made public. The committee announces action on the following cases since February:

Case 35—Student expelled from the University for inducing a substitute to take his examination in English Rhetoric in the January examination.

Case 36—Student dropped from Physics with a failure for the current semester for obtaining unauthorized aid in preparing outside problems.

Case 37—Student suspended from the University until the Summer School of 1928, with loss of all credit for second semester of 1926-1927, for dishonesty in a monthly examination in History.

Case 38—Student suspended until February, 1928, with loss of all credit for the second semester of 1926-1927, for handing in an examination in a monthly quiz in English Rhetoric, which he had prepared outside of class.

Case 39—Student recommended to the Board of Trustees for expulsion, for inducing a substitute to take his final examination in English Rhetoric. The action in this case is consistent with the action in Case 35 and is indicative of the policy of the Honor Committee in any cases involving the taking of examinations for another.

RIVALRIES CONTROLLED HELP ALL UNIVERSITIES

MINNEAPOLIS—Rivalries properly conducted and properly controlled are of value to the university, and uncontrolled rivalries are very menacing, is the statement of E. E. Nicholson, dean of student affairs, in his address at the engineers' and foresters' smoker at the Minnesota Union last week.

Attendance by foresters 100 per cent strong gave the smoker a strong send-off. Rivalry between the groups was strenuous this year, and the smoker was held to spread the tidings of peace.

COLONIAL TRACKMEN TAKE 5 CORNERED MEET

The distance, uncorked a tremendous heave. Quickly the measurers raced out with the tape, only to discover that it was too short to measure the throw.

Walker waited patiently while the distance was calculated, and announced as 176 feet 4 inches. He then put on his sweater, and watched each of the other entries curiously, as they made their tosses. After all had thrown once, he evidently decided that his throw could not be bested, and announced that he passed up the remainder of his throws. He then got up, strolled nonchalantly to the gym and showers, and disappeared for the afternoon. His presence was not necessary, as his first toss was 25 feet better than McNeal's best throw—and McNeal placed second.

Deutsche Verein Is Renamed Schoenfeld

Club Honors Late German Professor
By Unanimous Vote For Change

The Deutsche Verein was renamed the Schoenfeld Deutsche Verein in honor of the late Dr. Schoenfeld, scholar, author, and professor of German at George Washington University, at the final meeting of the club on Wednesday, May 11, by the unanimous vote of the members. The officers elected for the next year are Raphaela Schwarz, president, and Helen Prentiss, secretary-treasurer.

A special program, arranged by Frank Weitzel with the assistance of Pearl Ranow, was given. Vocal solos were rendered by Frau Thomas, soprano, of the Austrian Legation, accompanied on the piano by Fraulein Stranger, and by Mr. Bernard Kosiski, baritone, accompanied by Mr. John Monroe. Prof. Gropp delivered an illustrated lecture on Bremen. The G. W. String Quartet played several selections. A play, "The Traveling Scholar in Paradise," by Hans Sachs, the cast composed of Charles Kirk, the peasant, Helen Prentiss, pleasant woman, and Mr. Gropp, the scholar, was the final number on the program.

OHIO STATE SENIORS HELD UP BY PROM DEBT

COLUMBUS—The entire senior class of Ohio State may be kept from graduation unless its members make up losses from the senior prom held recently. The university ruling states that no student may graduate with any debt outstanding against him.

Because of reduced attendance at the prom, expenses of $1,375 were not paid.

Among suggestions made are that some of the favors be returned, that the orchestra reduce its fee, and that the club management return about $200. By these means the deficit could be reduced to $400.

CHICAGO GETS SCRIPTS

CHICAGO—A set of rare manuscripts has been acquired recently by the University of Chicago. This includes "Fac-Similes of Manuscripts in European Archives Relating to America, 1773-1783," by Benjamin Stevens, unpublished manuscripts in 24 volumes, and contains descriptions, notes, and translations.

Five Girls Get Minor Letters in Swimming

Point System Proved Very Successful; Swimming to Be Held All Year

Five girls won their minor letters in swimming this year under the newly inaugurated point system. These are: Mary Ewin, junior; Helen Day, sophomore; Caroline Wilcox, Effie Wade and Claudia Kyle, freshmen.

170 points were required out of 200 possible to earn by passing various strokes in good form, swimming for distance and completing the Red Cross senior life-saving test.

Although only five girls successfully finished the test many more were interested and the point system has proved so successful that it will be used again next year, when swimming will be held throughout the year.

307 PRESENT AT DINNER

Lewis, Borden and Aspinwall Are Among Speakers; Glee Club
Sings

Dr. D. K. Shute, emeritus professor of ophthalmology at the George Washington Medical School, was presented with a large silver punch bowl by Dr. Thomas A. Groover, pioneer in X-ray work, on behalf of the medical classes previous to the class of 1911. Dr. Shute's former students, who are prominent physicians in many cities, took the opportunity to present him with this testimonial, as a token of their devotion and esteem, at the first alumni reunion of the George Washington Medical School at a dinner at the City Club on May 18.

Speakers at Reunion Dinner

During the American Medical Association Convention, 307 George Washington alumni gathered at the reunion dinner, arranged by Dr. Chipman. The oldest graduate present was of the class of 1874, and a graduate of 1866 had sent a message of greeting. Dr. Charles Stanley White acted as toastmaster, and President Lewis, Dean Borden, Dr. W. F. R. Phillips, former Dean Dr. Henry C. Yarrow, and Mr. Aspinwall were the speakers. The George Washington Glee Club, under the direction of Bob Harmon, who is at present a medical student, sang many school songs.

The speakers announced the progress of the new Medical Center, forwarded by the George Washington Medical School and many local hospitals. Mr. C. A. Aspinwall, chairman of the Board of Trustees, spoke of the acquisition of a new site adjoining Garfield Hospital and north of the New George Washington Medical School, the purchase being financed by Mr. Aspinwall and Drs. Ruffin, White and Woodhull. Dr. Lewis expressed his belief that the new center will be unsurpassed by any in the country and will attract the attention of all medical men.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB FINISHES SEASON OF 44 CONCERTS

Club Sings Today at Reception
For President and Mrs.
Lewis

WILL HOLD DANCE JUNE 9;
NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

List of Appearances Includes Twenty-one
Concerts at Earle
Theatre

With its annual banquet and dance at the Manor Club, Thursday, June 9, with the music by Elmer Brown's Troubadours, the Men's Glee Club closes its most successful year. Thursday, June 2, the club held a business meeting for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year. These are James Fleck, president; Victor E. Koch, manager; Harry W. Clayton, assistant manager; Bob Tuhey, secretary; J. Firth Marquis, treasurer.

The season just closed included forty-four appearances of the club, and it is certain that more people heard them sing this year than did in any previous year.

Much of the success of the season is due to Mr. Robert H. Harmon, director, and Mrs. R. H. Harmon, accompanist. The support of the faculty in the person of Dean John R. Lapham, which made the various undertakings of the year successful, was one of the big factors in building up the spirit that was so manifest at all of the club's appearances. At the same time due credit should be given to the soloists, Miss Juanita Froehlich and others.

Sing at Reception

Today the club is to sing at the reception to President and Mrs. Wm. Mather Lewis at Rauscher's, to be given by the Alumni Association of George Washington University. Tomorrow they will sing at the Church of the Covenant, 18th and N Streets N. W., where they will give the musical prelude to the evening service.

The following is a list of the club's appearances during the past year: Upper Marlboro, Md.; St. Elizabeth's Hospital; Walter Reed Hospital; Columbia Junior High School Parent-Teachers Association; Reception by Columbian Women to President and Mrs. Lewis at Rauscher's; Metropolitan Presbyterian Church; Department of State Club at Rauscher's; Westminster Lodge Ladies Night at Raleigh Hotel; Lafayette Lodge Ladies Night at City Club; Banquet Royal Order of Moose at Raleigh Hotel; Lebanon Chapter, Eastern Star at Masonic Auditorium; Georgetown Presbyterian Church; Earl Theatre, twenty-one appearances; Keith's N. Remittance

The 1927 Cherry Tree has at last appeared on the campus and with its black leather binding is a most attractive book. On the left of the cover is the imprint of the trunk of a cherry tree, in the lower right hand corner, the cherry tree itself with the date underneath. The buff and blue color scheme has been carried out through the entire book, which is the same size as that of last year.

Among the unique features of the 1927 book are the pages devoted to pictures of members of the Junior Class, and the arrangement of the fraternity and sorority pages. Pictures of the members of each fraternity are grouped around a facsimile of the pin, a method which is new and attractive.

Many Features

There are several pages of features, some of which are illustrated by Rowland Lyon, Chick Chittick and others, as well as many snapshots. Other art features have been contributed by Marion Stewart, Winnie Beall, Peggy Eckels, Lydage Black, Jean Miles, Peggy Somerville and Bob Williams.

According to Rowland Lyon, the Business Manager, delivery of the books was delayed in order to have all the copy as nearly correct as is possible, and with the careful proof-reading the book promises to be one of the most satisfactory ever published at the University.

The Editor will be glad to send copies of the Cherry Tree to any address upon receipt of $4.00. There is no extra charge for postage. Remittance should be made to Robert Stearns, care of the Sigma Nu House, 1733 N Street N. W.

FIGURES REVEAL NO SUICIDE WAVE

Woman's Home Companion
Study Does Not Show
College Wave

NONSENSE, SAYS ARTICLE Publicity Given to Supposed College Suicides Held to Be Harmful

No "suicide wave" in American schools and colleges is revealed by statistics which have been studied by the Woman's Home Companion in probing the hue and cry which followed the last mid-term examinations. These figures show that the proportion of suicides among students was no greater than among clerks or other groups of the same age.

"If there are more student suicides than there used to be," it is stated, "this may be explained by the enormously increased enrollment in colleges and schools. Possibly in this greater student population there have been admitted more of the pathologically unfit than formerly, although this is not proved."

"Many well-balanced educators deny that there has been any suicide wave, though they fear that one may be created by the playing-up of details of the occasional cases, thereby fostering the powerful influence of imitation."

Many Explanations.

"Nevertheless it is proper to listen to the explanations offered by many excited parents, teachers, publicists and newspapers. Jazz, radio, movies and motor cars have come in for their usual blame. The example of abnormal living set by elders—the deterioration of home and family ties—the materialism of our age—the desire for new thrills, even for post-mortem notoriety—the scarcity of sound sleep and good food—the spread of semi-religious mysticism—the teaching of pernicious doctrines—the romanticism of adolescence shocked by reality—all these and many more have been cited as underlying causes of the despair of youth."

"Most of this is nonsense and indeed it is positively harmful to throw that sort of glamour around suicide. We have rather to make youth see that the suicide, tragic though he may be, is essentially ridiculous. He is not a hero, not even a pitiable coward. He is a fool, a far greater fool in death than he ever could be in life."

Dr. Frankwood Williams says: "I do not think the college man has any greater problems to face than in the past. His emotions are what they always have been. But he has a better opportunity of understanding them himself and receiving intelligent assistance than ever before."

CARD SHARP IS LATEST FRATERNITY GRAFTER

The card sharp is the latest grafter to visit the fraternity house according to an interesting feature story in the Ohio State Lantern. He shows his dexterity with the cards and admits he's not a sharp; places them up and down his forearm, gives them a quick jerk, they fly into the air, and with a sudden movement catches them all in one hand.

All the while he hands out a very smooth line: "You see, I was on the Keith circuit until about six weeks ago, when I broke my ankle. So now I'm visiting fraternity houses, teaching the boys my tricks. It's all very simple, just takes 15 minutes to learn, and I leave printed instructions, so you won't forget them. Six tricks for $1."

"Surely, I teach you how to turn a jack every time in seven-up, make cards disappear, beat a perfect bridge hand, and many others. Now how many will enter the class? Remember, it's only a dollar, and if you're not satisfied you need not pay."

This person is the newest of numerous grafters on fraternity houses, concludes the Lantern. It mentions the candy, sandwich and peanut vendors and a campus character known as "Mall Pouch" who carries a line of stone charms.

ATWATER KENT OFFERS PRIZES

Nation-Wide Audition For Best
Voices in America Will Be Held

ALL EXPENSES COVERED

First Prizes $5,000 Each and Two
Year's Tuition in American
Conservatory

Schools, colleges, musical clubs and non-professional young singers everywhere will be interested in an announcement just made by the Atwater Kent Foundation of Philadelphia.

Plans for a nation-wide "Audition," to discover the best voices in the country and to award substantial prizes of money and tuition, are revealed, with the suggestion that civic clubs in each town, musical clubs and conservatories participate by putting forward their best talent.

The Foundation is organizing each state, by arranging with some musical or civic organization in each to manage a state Audition. This will begin in each local community, where the two best singers—one young man and one young woman—will be selected by competition. These will be sent to a central point in the state, where an "Audition," or singing contest, will be conducted "on the air" by a broadcasting station. Thus two winners for that state will be selected—one of each sex.

From this point the Foundation assumes all management and expense. It has divided the country into five districts and will hold a "district audition" on the air in each, participated in by the two winners from each state in that district. Railroad fare, entertainment, hotel bills, etc., of state winners to the district Auditions will be paid by the Foundation.

Go To New York

Two winners from each district—one of each sex—will be selected, making ten contestants for the final, National Audition. These will be taken to New York at the expense of the Foundation, entertained there and put on the air for a final competition over a national network of broadcasting stations. Each of the ten will get a prize.

The two winners of first place in the National Audition—a man and a woman—will each receive a gold decoration, $5,000 in cash and two years' tuition in a leading American conservatory.

Winners of second prizes will each receive $2,000 in cash and one year's tuition.

Winners of third prizes will each receive $1,000 cash and one year's tuition.

Winners of fourth prizes will each receive $500 cash.

Winners of fifth prizes will each receive $250 cash.

The principal qualifications for contestants are as follows: Must not be over 25 years old; must never have been associated with a professional theatrical or operatic company; must never have been a paid principal in any concert held outside their own states; must declare an intention to follow a musical career and must be free from theatrical or musical contracts.

This limitation permits choir singers to enter the auditions, even though they may have received financial compensation for singing in churches. Other groups from which entries are anticipated are students in musical schools and locally prominent singers in high schools and colleges.

GAS COMPANY TO MAKE NEW AWARD

Third Scholarship in Gas Engineering to be Offered to Johns Hopkins U.

G. W. MAN WON LAST YEAR

Is First Course of Its Kind in Country; Enrollment Grows From 8 to 43

The Washington Gas Light Company of this city announces that it will offer a third scholarship in the Gas Engineering Course at Johns Hopkins University of Baltimore beginning with the Fall term of 1927.

This announcement is of interest to the students of George Washington University inasmuch as the scholarship offered last year by the company was awarded to Joseph G. Smith, Jr., then a student at this University.

The Johns Hopkins University is leading research, learning and service into this new field and is the first American university to establish a Gas Engineering Department. This new department, fostered in the beginning by a small group of interested and forward-looking men in the Southern Gas Association, has now become national, perhaps international, in scope and importance. Universities throughout the country are watching with great interest the work in the Gas Engineering Department and many of them are making plans for the establishment of such branches in their Engineering Schools.

Through this course it will be possible to procure ultimately from the University, men technically trained in Gas Engineering, including such branches as the manufacture, distribution, utilization and service of gas. However, the instruction is designed to equip a student not only in these units, but also in the many other industries which require fundamental training in both mechanical engineering and chemistry.

This course was first established in 1924 with only three day students, whereas the enrollment has now grown to forty-three. As interest is manifested further in this work and young men begin to realize the vast opportunities that await them in this important and vital business, it is expected that this department of Johns Hopkins Engineering School will show remarkable growth each year.

The undergraduate course consists of four years, the first two of which are devoted chiefly to fundamental and cultural courses such as English, drawing, mathematics, physics and chemistry. In the third and fourth years these are combined with professional studies in gas engineering, fuel analysis, and by-product recovery, together with related courses dealing with the elements of other branches of engineering.

This will make the third scholarship offered by the Washington Gas Light Company, the first two being held by young men now attending the University. It is open to residents of Washington or vicinity, such residents, of course, to be able to meet the University requirements for entrance. The Scholarship is worth $450 per year for four years, which covers the cost of tuition, laboratory fees and other incidental expenses, but does not include board and room. The appointment for this scholarship will be for one scholastic year, the holder being eligible for reappointment from year to year, however, if he conforms in character, industry and ability with the standards and requirements of the University.

Any student interested in this scholarship should call at the Washington Gas Light Company, Office of the Secretary, 413 10th St. N. W., Washington, D. C.

G. W. STUDENT INJURES HAND IN ELEVATOR

Willard Webb, a member of the Graduate School of the University, and employed at the Library of Congress, sustained a painful injury Friday last when his hand became jammed between a truck load of books and an elevator. At first it was feared that amputation might be necessary, but it is now thought that this will not be necessary.

Willard is receiving calls from his many University friends at Providence Hospital, where he will remain for at least two weeks. He was graduated from the University with the degree of Bachelor of Arts and is now working on his Master's degree in History.

PLAYERS KEEP CLUB; ELECT NEW MEMBERS

The Players voted full membership to all of their associate members and all those who participated in their contribution to the Varsity Dramatic festival, "The Beggar on Horseback."

The Players have not made their program for next year. The concentration of the dramatic organization in its new form will be on one performance. The club will not be formally disbanded, but are allowed and even encouraged. Thus the Players may continue to put on their monthly programs, and those people who have the training in the monthly programs will have the extra experience in their favor when the varsity cast is chosen.

MEDICAL STUDENT DIES

Clyde Cole, twenty-two-year-old pre-medical student at the University died suddenly at the George Washington University Hospital last Friday. The cause of his death was septicemia, caused by a slight cut on his face. Several infusions were given him but were of no help. Cole was very popular with his fellow students who feel his death keenly. His home was in Reading, Pa.

With the S. S. Ryndam back in the home port of New York after its first cruise around the world with the University Afloat, preparations are being made for the second cruise, which will leave New York for the circuit of the globe about September 20.

Profiting by the experiences of the first trip, the University Travel Association, Inc., in charge of the trip, is taking only men students on this cruise and is making plans for a second cruise to take care of the large number of women students who have made application to take the trip. The women's cruise will probably leave New York in February and will take six months to make the trip.

Announcement of the addition of a number of prominent professors to the teaching staff has been made. As was the case last year regular college courses in a wide variety of subjects are being offered the students. These include courses in art, history, economics, languages, foreign trade, sociology, geography, English, government, psychology, philosophy, and navigation. The course in navigation will be taught by officers of the ship and will include practical problems that will come up during the voyage.

Local Representative

Howard M. Baggett has been appointed special representative of the Cruise in this vicinity and anyone wishing full information on the voyage, including literature, should get in touch with him at once. He may be reached at 18 W. Maple Street, Alexandria, or by phone over Alexandria 1346-J. Mail addressed to him care of the University or the Hatchet will also reach him.

Only 375 carefully selected men will be taken on the trip this year. Travel and serious study will be combined in the venture. College credit in the courses taken is allowed. Expenses of the trip are very moderate and include everything that comes up during the voyage.

Among the features on board ship are a daily paper, an annual, a photo exchange, musical and athletic activities, etc. The ship is equipped with outdoor gymnasium and apparatus, two swimming pools, hospital and dental office, a library of several thousand volumes, carefully selected to suit the special needs of the College; classrooms, study halls, pianos, laundry room, barber shop.

Anyone interested should communicate with the local representative at once.

SOUTHER PRESIDENT OF INTERFRAT COUNCIL

George H. Souther, of Delta Theta Phi, was elected President of the Interfraternity Council at a meeting at the Theta Upsilon Omega house, May 15. Robert S. Williams was elected vice-president; Junius Romney, secretary; and Verne MacDonald, treasurer.

Mr. Souther is a member of the Aetolia fraternity and served as delegate from that organization last year. He is a member of Gate and Key.

This was the last meeting of the year. The first meeting of the coming year will be at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house.

VODVIL TO BE GIVEN

The reorganization of the Dramatic Organization does not affect the annual Vodvil Show. This will be produced as formerly, with the status of any undergraduate activity.

PI DELTA HOLDS NEWS CONTESTS

More Than 400 High School and College Papers Have Been Judged

RESULTS TO BE OUT SOON

Purpose of Contest to Raise Standard of Collegiate and High School
Journalism, Says Prof.

MINNEAPOLIS—More than 400 high school and college papers are being judged in an "All-American" contest conducted by Prof. E. Marion Johnson of the University of Minnesota.

Members of Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary national collegiate journalism fraternity, are doing the judging. Complete results of the contest will be known within a few days, and published in The Scholastic, which the fraternity publishes.

Contest judges select the leading publications in the five divisions of schools, and give a critical examination of all parts of each paper, rendering criticisms and suggestions to editors. Pi Delta Epsilon passes on every portion of each paper from front page, through news stories, editorials, headlines, and even advertising.

Aims to Raise Standard

One of the major purposes of such a critical evaluation is to raise the standard of college and high school journalism, Professor Johnson says. The contest is now in its fourth year, the professor having initiated it when he was at University of Wisconsin.

All of the Pi Deltas who are doing the judging have had considerable journalistic experience, and have made a very careful study of the papers involved. They are:

Michael J. Fadell, president of the fraternity; Thomas B. Roberts, who passed on the humor sections of the papers; Charles Ritten, who judged the advertising sections; John Healy, Sheldon Johnson, Harold Cox and Robert Shay, who helped him; Paul B. Nelson, who judged the news and the typography; Doren Eltsert, Martin Newell and Donald Rogers, who judged nature material; Howard Haycraft and Carl Luethi, who judged news, typography and editorials; and Carl Litzenberg who judged humor columns of high school papers.

MOVIES ARE USED FOR UNIVERSITY PUBLICITY

Are Found to Be Valuable in Promotion of Various Fields of Activities

Although educators are still testing the class-room value of the motion picture, American universities have definitely turned to the movies as an effective means of securing financial support, furthering expansion of programs, holding the interest of alumni, attracting new students and creating general interest in their institutions. This is declared as the finding of a survey made by Herbert L. Connelly, alumni secretary of Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., the results of which are announced in June Amateur Movie Makers, the official magazine of the Amateur Cinema League.

Fifty-seven great schools have already produced movies to advertise their advantages or aid in the promotion of various plans, and twenty more are getting similar programs under way, the survey disclosed. Upwards of 90,000 feet of collegiate motion picture film is already in constant use, a large part of this film having been produced on an amateur basis with amateur equipment. Sixteen universities have produced complete scenarios and the others have filmed athletic events, campus scenes, alumni reunions, faculty members and special events.

Visual Communication

"Thus the campus mountain has actually come to the graduate Mohamet and another miracle of the movies is recorded," the article entitled "The Traveling Campus" states. "By this magic carpet the most venerable buildings, the most ancient oaks and sycamores and the most firmly imbedded faculty members have become mobile. Alumni are actually kept in visual communication with the changing conditions and increasing needs of their schools."

"Prospective pupils get first-hand, or at least first-eye, information about the college they are considering. The institutions themselves by exchange of films may modestly herald their rival achievements. Eventually these films will find their way into the amateur libraries and the absurd conceptions of college life which are held by many Americans will give way to a realistic picture of what collegians are doing. They are telling the story of higher education in the most simple fashion and by a means which has the most general appeal."

DR. C. C. SWISHER IS DESIGNATED PROF. EMERITUS

Terminates Long and Meritorious Service as History Professor at G. W.

WAS STUDENT AT YALE, COLUMBIA AND CORNELL

Has Been Teaching History at University for 31 Years; Gained Four Degrees

Professor Charles Clinton Swisher has recently been made Professor Emeritus of History after thirty-one years of active service at George Washington University. Dr. Swisher received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from Yale in 1876, Bachelor of Laws from Columbia in 1887, Doctor of Philosophy from Cornell in 1892, and in 1896 came to Columbian University (now George Washington) as the first member of its faculty to devote himself entirely to the teaching of History. Mt. St. Mary's conferred on him the degree of Doctor of Laws in 1904.

Dr. Swisher spent a number of years prior to 1896 in Mexico and South America, and was commissioned by President Diaz of Mexico to study the condition of coffee production in other countries and possibilities of the eucalyptus for Mexican planting. He has traveled extensively in Europe, Asia, Africa, and Australia, as well as South America.

Is Noted Author.

Among the books of which Professor Swisher is the author are a History of the Work of the Religious Orders in Mexico, The Eucalyptus, Native and Transplanted, The Cultivation of Coffee and Cocoa in the Islands of Java, and Sumatra. He is a member of several Alpine Clubs, of the Cosmos Club, the Asiatic, Historical, and other associations.

Formal felicitations on his long and valuable service to the University will be made when the following will appear on illuminated parchment to be presented to Dr. Swisher at Commencement:

Text of Felicitation.

"George Washington University felicitates Charles Clinton Swisher upon the completion of thirty-one years of active service as Professor of History."

"A graduate of Yale, he had studied at the Universities of Berlin, Heidelberg and Paris, and received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from Cornell. But his knowledge of man and his works was not merely that of the student. In the known and unknown parts of the world, from Mexico plantations to European capitals, he has seen much of cities of men, and manners, climates, councils, governments. With this equipment he came to the work of creating a Department of History at this University."

"The visible and tangible results of these thirty-one years of devoted labor may be seen in the University today. The invisible and intangible results are scattered in regions as wide as his own travels, wherever his students have gone and taken with them his inspiration. History to him is real—he has made it real to the classes; and to those who were to become teachers he has passed on the stimulus of his example."

"His colleagues wish for him the fullest enjoyment of the rest which he has so richly earned. His students, present and past, thank him for what he has given them. The University gratefully acknowledges his services, and even in his retirement still claims him as Professor Emeritus."

W. S. G. A. MAKES PETITION

A petition signed by over two hundred names of prominent sorority and non-sorority women on the campus has been presented to the faculty by the committee on the George Washington University Women's Self-Government Association to request faculty support in its formation.

ART STUDENT WANTED

Prof. Crandall, of the Architectural Department, announces an opening for a man student who is interested in all branches of art. The employers have asked the University to cooperate in finding the man especially fit for the position, and any student who aims to enter the field of art should apply to Prof. Crandall to learn the details.

DOCTOR SWISHER SPEAKS

One of the most enjoyable times ever spent by the History Club was the afternoon at the Normal Camp, near Sycamore Island, on Sunday, May 15. Doctor Swisher told of his World War experiences. The club is indebted to the Misses Greene, who were hostesses.

NEW MAGAZINE IS CHRISTENED "COLONIAL WIG"

Helen Dix and Frank W. Smith Temporary Editorial and Business Heads

FIRST ISSUE TO COME OUT DURING OCTOBER

Bement, Baker, Smith Faculty Advisors; Catherine Ruth Assistant Editorial Head

George Washington's latest journalistic venture, a new literary magazine to be entitled "The Colonial Wig," will make its first appearance next October. The contract for printing has been awarded to the Terminal Press Company, which now prints The Hatchet and The Ghost. Subscription and advertising blanks have been issued. Plans are under way for a summer campaign to raise funds, since the magazine receives no subsidy from the University.

Helen Dix has been elected temporary literary chairman and Catherine Ruth, assistant literary chairman. Frank W. Smith is the temporary business chairman. Serving on the short story committee are Merle Ellsworth and Wanda Webb; on the poetry committee are Florence Merriam, Helen Connelly and George Roth; on the essay committee are S. Gersten and Betty Quinn; on the book reviews committee are Miriam Linkens and Mary Green. George Roth also serves as a drama and book review committee.

Douglas Bement, Cortland Darke Baker, and Prof. Audley L. Smith, of the faculty, serve as faculty advisors.

Members of the business staff are Anne Rosenthal, Stanley Gersten, George Roth, Mary F. Green, and Betty Quinn.

Agitated Last Fall

A group of students who felt for a long time that the University should have some publication to give expression to the literary talent here, started a movement to found a literary magazine. Faculty consent was withheld at that time. Agitation was renewed and consent of the faculty was given, with the provision that the magazine be entirely self-supporting.

At the first meeting, called by Mr. Bement, instructor in English, the students elected Catherine Ruth temporary chairman of the business committee, but she indicated her preference to be on the editorial staff. However, under her direction, bids from printers were obtained, advertising rates fixed, and the general character of the magazine defined.

The magazine will contain stories, poems, essays, dramatic and music reviews.

According to a statement issued by Mr. Bement, "The students have responded heartily to the cry for a college literary magazine. Since this is the only university of any size which hasn't such a magazine, I am thoroughly in favor of the idea, and I believe that most of the other faculty members are, too."

COLONIAL DEBATERS WIN OVER CAMBRIDGE

Williamson, Trimble and McSwain Defeat Britishers on Subject of Chicago Elections

The George Washington debate team, now on a tour in England, defeated Cambridge University last Tuesday night on the question of educational qualifications for voting. The debate centered around the recent Chicago elections, and the Britishers argued that educational qualifications would correct the present system of government and relieve the world of demagogues.

William F. Williamson, of G. W., stated that an educational test was futile in such an instance, and that limitation of suffrage would mean an oligarchy. John T. Trimble argued that a satisfactory educational test could not be devised, and that Mayor Thompson of Chicago was not a typical American. William A. McSwain enlightened the British by contending that Chicago itself was a "hot-bed of aliens and a melting pot where foreigners have not melted."

The audience voted in favor of the American team, and the Cambridge and Oxford professors who served as judges also gave a unanimous decision in favor of G. W.

COMMENT ON PRIZE BOOK

"World's Work," in its last issue, carried an article concerning Dr. Samuel F. Bemis' Pulitzer Prize book, "Pinckney's Treaty," and a photograph of the author in its last edition. The book received very favorable comment. Dr. Bemis' book won the $2,000 prize offered annually for the best historical work published during the preceding year.
